Why Scuba Club Cozumel?

Well the list is massive. Scuba Club Cozumel was designed and built — by divers for divers — to provide all services in one convenient place. The resort is private, safe and secluded from the crowds you'll find downtown, but is still close enough to walk to town (10-15 minute stroll).

The courtyard area is rich with tropical plants adorned with local stone carvings and exotic flowers. The freshwater swimming pool is located next to the restaurant.

OK What's the Cost?

- Double occupancy: $1290 per diver, and $961 per non diver
- Single occupancy: $1577 per diver.

How do we get there?

Continental Airlines provides a number of flights to Cozumel, at VERY affordable prices. A direct flight is available from Newark to Cozumel for around $620. Contact Like 'da Fish for flight suggestions.

Just an FYI... airfare is all based on space on the plane. The first 10-20 seats are at one price, then when those sell out, the airlines bump up the price $20-$30 per ticket until the next group of seats sell out, and so on, until the flight is full. March is the start of spring break so those flights will get up over $800 if people wait.

Keep in mind Cozumel ground transportation is part of the group rate. Additional fees may apply if you arrive outside of the primary group's time table.

BOOK NOW!

This is peak season for Cozumel, so booking ASAP is advised, to avoid loss of rooms. 50% deposit required at booking. We have secured 10 rooms at the 2011 rate. Once they are sold, additional rooms are subject to a higher rate. Full payment no later than December 1, 2011.
